The Estoril Portugal XPD race which ended with dramatic surf landings on Sunday afternoon on Estoril beach was followed by a meal and then the prize giving ceremony for all the athletes and race personnel that evening. Alexandre Guedes de Silva, Race Coordinator, opened the ceremony giving a short speech thanking all the participants and the staff that worked on the race. He then called Cláudio Barreto, Race Director, and Geoff Hunt, ARWorld Series Director to present the prizes.

Once the prizes had been distributed, Geoff Hunt gave a short speech, where he gave feedback on his experience as observer of the race. He said it had taken him a while to understand the format which was quite different to the normal straightforward, first across the line race but he obviously was sufficiently impressed with the race, it's organisation and Portugal as an adventure race venue as he announced that Portugal XPD race would be hosting the 2009 World Adventure Race Championship.
